

James J. Miller, PHD, LLC
1544 Cristobal Drive
Tallahassee, FL 32303
jimmiller@email.com
www.jimmiller.com
850-445-5042 cell
877-683-9102 fax from US international fax 815-301-8917

Jim Miller provides specialized consulting services in archaeology, historic preservation and heritage planning. Having served twenty years as State Archaeologist of Florida, and as a consultant for ten years prior to that, Miller has extensive experience in all aspects of cultural resource management. He helped build and manage programs in management of state-owned resources, training for resource managers, underwater archaeology, treatment of human remains, collections management, and scholarly publication. He was instrumental in creating many of the statutory and regulatory provisions of Florida's historic preservation legal framework. With advanced degrees in planning as well as anthropology, Miller brings a broad perspective and extensive experience to government, business and non-profit contexts. He specializes in senior level consulting concerning design, implementation and quality control of large scale projects and resolution of difficult problems.

Recent and current consultancies

- National Museum of The Bahamas: developing a national archaeological program
- Clifton Heritage Authority, The Bahamas: planning a national heritage park
- Facilitated Native American consultation for Florida National Guard with PanAmerican Consultants, Inc.
- Johnson Peterson Architects, Tallahassee: programming and planning a new state archaeological facility
- Friends of Woodlawn Cemetery, Bronx, New York: developing GIS and data base approaches to historic cemetery preservation, maintenance and planning
- Florida Keys National Marine Sanctuary/NOAA, Islamorada: creating a Submerged Cultural Resource Management Plan and An Atlas of Maritime Heritage Resources
- Bender & Associates, Architects, Key West: Historic Preservation Plan for Fort Zachary Taylor Historic State Park, Key West
- Bahamas Antiquities, Monuments and Museums Corp., Nassau, The Bahamas: Creating a national GIS-based Master Site File of archaeological and historic sites
- Florida Park Service, Tallahassee: developing a state-wide curation policy and evaluating existing collections for retention or deaccession
- Consulting Editor and Co-author: Florida Native American Heritage Trail and Florida Spanish Colonial Heritage Trail publications